Get your clients started right with the easy-to-use app interface. No web connection needed. With FitnessBrain Trainer by Health Mate, you don't have to be online. A client can start the workout even if his internet connection is broken, or he is simply away from his home. Smart prompts - before, during and after a workout. FitnessBrain Trainer by Health Mate is packed with many features, including pre-defined daily routines. To help your clients reach their goals faster, these routines are tailor-made and include the ideal exercises for each body shape, as well as hints, tips and a variety of additional information. Using FitnessBrain Trainer by Health Mate, your clients can train with the included workout equipment, and record the results with the included photo album and progress visualization. The app also allows you to post workout videos directly to Facebook and Twitter, so you can easily share your clients' results with your friends and followers.

Sports Lab Mobile is an easy to use sports training app designed to give you control of the training session and track the progress of your clients in real time. Record your clients' performance, display detailed charts and analyze the results. How it works:

- For each training session, Sports Lab Mobile provides a simple training plan to follow, and allows you to set goals, or objectives, for your clients.
- The app displays all the data you need to know during a session, such as how much time has been spent on each phase of the plan, how long it has taken to complete each exercise, the calories burned and more.
- You can track your clients' progress, compare their results with other clients, and even challenge them to compete against each other.
- A full screen mode lets you keep an eye on your clients' progress while you train. See your clients' results in real time and compare them to other clients' results.

Sports Lab Mobile can be used in connection with any sports equipment, such as portable strength trainer machines
